

F. B. MURRAY, Editor. THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1887.

GREENVILLE is to have her streets and public places lighted by the electric light.

In order to arrange to publish the notices as to the prohibition election in August the proper number of days, we will date and publish the INTELLIGENCER on Wednesday for the next three weeks.

We understand that in some parts of the State Anderson is reported to be unhealthy. There is no foundation for such a report, as the health of the city has never been better, as far as we know, for years.

The News and Courier's Anti-Treating Society idea has not drawn well, and our contemporary is still urging some one to take the lead in organizing such societies.

The Commissioners of Election fixed last Tuesday at three o'clock as the latest time at which they would receive petition.

President Cleveland and wife are visiting his brother, the Rev. Mr. Cleveland, at Alder Creek, a small village in New York State.

M. L. Donaldson, of this county, has definitely decided to be a candidate before the next Legislature for Commissioner of Agriculture.

The friends of Bishop Taylor's African missions, which are not supported by any missionary society, have in the past eighteen months contributed nearly $45,000 to maintain them.

Now, we want every one who can to come. The railroad fare will only be one cent per mile each way, and probably less.

Full particulars can be obtained by addressing the Secretary, Mr. Warren DuPre, at Spartanburg, S. C.

It is a light rest, as to hold in Louisiana next August, ending as it does in a slight reduction, compensated by a small advance in the States West of the Mississippi.

The following somewhat resembles a fish story, but it is vouchered for by a very responsible gentleman and cannot be incorrect.

In the vicinity of the barnyard of Mr. W. S. Monteth, who lives just outside of the city limits, partridges are in the habit of making their nests and hatching their young.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18, 1887. Matters both local and National have been quiet at the Capitol this past week.

Nothing has transpired to relieve the monotony of the heated spell, except the address cast over the city by the assassin in broad day of one of the most prominent men in business and social life at the Capitol.

Notwithstanding we are in the burly burl of city life, and look from early morn' till dewy eve on the many new and attractive sights, our minds are prone to wander back home and dwell on the "Reunion of our Collegiate" at Williamston, and more especially a reunion of our own family.

The President's departure from the city without making an appointment of Postmaster in place of Conger, whose commission has expired, has left the many aspirants for the lucrative birth in a state of uncertainty and uneasiness.

The Bell Telephone people have won another victory in the Patent Office. The motion of Gray, the rival claimant to allow him to amend his old application by inserting the word "metallic" before the word "diaphragm" so as to form a basis for a claim to the metallic diaphragm used in the telephones, has been denied by the Primary Examiner.

ACROSS THE MOUNTAINS.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 14, 1887. MR. EDITOR: In looking through the daily papers this morning we see an account of the burning of the warehouse and cotton which occurred at Pelzer yesterday.

How quickly news is sent on the wires in this nineteenth century. "Like as the waves make toward the pebbled shore, so do our minutes hasten to their end."

Notwithstanding we are in the burly burl of city life, and look from early morn' till dewy eve on the many new and attractive sights, our minds are prone to wander back home and dwell on the "Reunion of our Collegiate" at Williamston, and more especially a reunion of our own family.

DYING BY HUNDREDS.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—With the simple exception of July 8th, 1876, to-day has been the hottest for over thirty years, the heat being even greater than that of yesterday.

At five o'clock this afternoon the thermometer registered 102 degrees in the shade, being just one degree less than that of July 8th, 1876, and one and a quarter degrees greater than yesterday.

Notwithstanding we are in the burly burl of city life, and look from early morn' till dewy eve on the many new and attractive sights, our minds are prone to wander back home and dwell on the "Reunion of our Collegiate" at Williamston, and more especially a reunion of our own family.

Fell From the Scaffolding.

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 14.—This morning, about 9 o'clock, George Caldwell, S. Jackson, William Oliver and Sam Cunningham, all negroes, were engaged at work on some columns that jutted out from the wall of the house of representatives, about thirty feet from the floor.

They were standing on a plank stretched across the scaffolding, when the plank broke and precipitated them to the floor beneath. Caldwell and Jackson were sitting on the plank drilling a hole in a piece of iron, and Oliver and Cunningham were standing at the ends.

SIX DEATHS REPORTED.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—The intensely warm weather continued to-day, the thermometer at three p. m. registering 99 degrees. A rain storm of short duration passed over the city about four o'clock, after which a pleasant breeze from the northwest afforded grateful relief to perishing humanity.

Up to midnight six deaths from the effects of heat were reported, a number of cases of sunstroke were also reported, several of which are likely to prove fatal.

Five People Killed.

NASHVILLE, TENN., July 13.—A most remarkable occurrence followed a negro funeral at Mount Pleasant, about six miles South of Nashville to-day. Nine negroes were killed by a single stroke of lightning. A large party followed the remains of Harriet Terry to the grave singing and shouting. The usual ceremonies at the grave were performed. Just as the final prayer had been said, a dark ominous cloud came up from the east. The party had scarcely left the grave when one of the most severe thunder and rain storms ever known to that section burst upon them.

All immediately made a break for the various trees scattered around the graveyard. Scarcely had those who were killed reached the shelter of an immense oak when a terrific thunder cloud burst and the tree was struck. The whole party of nine tumbled down together and died instantly.

Notwithstanding we are in the burly burl of city life, and look from early morn' till dewy eve on the many new and attractive sights, our minds are prone to wander back home and dwell on the "Reunion of our Collegiate" at Williamston, and more especially a reunion of our own family.

McCULLY, CATHCART & CO.

July 21, 1887

JOHN E. PEOPLES,

Agent for the Celebrated VAN WINKLE GIN, FEEDER AND CONDENSER,

Manufactured at Atlanta, Georgia, and to which Premiums were awarded at the Atlanta Cotton Exposition, Charleston Industrial Exposition Feb. 2, 1882, and at the South Carolina and Georgia State Fairs, 1881.

THE VAN WINKLE FEEDER AND CONDENSER can be attached to any other Gin, so parties having other make of Gins and wishing Feeders or Condensers can be supplied by sending in their order in time, and I will guarantee satisfaction.

All kinds of PULLEYS and SHAPING and most IMPROVED CANE MILLS and EVAPORATORS furnished on order.

ANDERSON, S. C.—Mr. John E. Peoples—Sir: The Steam Power Van Winkle Cotton Press bought from you last Fall has given entire satisfaction.

I packed bales of cotton weighing 660 to 725 lbs. in five minutes with all ease, using a 4-inch belt and 25 lbs. steam. There did not seem any more strain on the Press than with a 400 lb. bale. For durability, strength, lightness of power, small quantity of steam required, economy of space, I deem it the King of all Cotton Presses—especially so as the low price at which it can be bought for puts it within reach of every man running a steam Gin. In fact I would not be without it for twice its cost. I would advise all my friends to buy one of Van Winkle's Steam Power Cotton Presses, as you will save its cost in labor in one year.

M. A. COBB.

THE BOSS PRESS!

I am agent also for the "Boss Hand and Power Presses," which are strong, easily handled and easily erected.

THE STAR AND KING PRESS.

I am agent also for the Star Hand Press, which gives general satisfaction. Suitable for traveling Gins.

THE AMERICAN FRUIT PRESERVING Powder and Liquid.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Dispatches from all over the United States (except the Pacific Coast), which has not yet been heard from,) report to-day as the hottest of the season. Detroit records 102 in the shade and outdoor work suspended; Cleveland, 98, the hottest in nine years, and several sunstrokes; St. Paul, 97, and adds that for three weeks there has not been a single cool, pleasant day; Philadelphia, 95 to 98; Lock Haven, Pennsylvania, 100; Wilmington and other places in Delaware, 100; Baltimore, 100, being the warmest in 6 years; Syracuse, N. Y., 100; Utica, N. Y., 98; Pittsburg, 97 at 2 o'clock, the hottest of the summer.

Two fatal cases of sunstroke and a number of "serious prostrations from the heat" were reported up to that hour. The iron and steel mills were compelled to close down during the heat of the day. Chicago, 95 at 2 P. M., and five deaths from sunstroke up to 11 A. M.; Washington 98 at 3 o'clock. Horses suffered terribly on the asphalt pavements here to-day, and one died on Pennsylvania avenue.

More Earthquakes. LONDON, July 17.—Slight shocks of earthquakes were felt in Sicily and along the Italian coast at eight this morning. Mt. Etna is in a state of eruption. No damage is reported. A severe earthquake shock was felt to-day at Malta. A serious shock was also experienced at Cairo, where one man was killed and several injured. A number of mosques were damaged. Shocks were also felt at Ismailia and Alexandria.
